Protecting Missing Children with Special Needs

The Massachusetts State Police (MSP) is hosting a three-hour train the trainer seminar to prepare law enforcement officers and first responders with essential strategies for understanding and responding effectively to situations that involve individuals with autism and other disabilities. This training session will provide students a full curriculum to implement and increase their department's critical knowledge of autism and provide practical tips for use in the field. This training is presented by MSP, The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, and Autism Speaks. Seating will be reserved on a first-come, first-served basis. Limit two officers per department.
